Private Classes in DASI ATTAM: dance, music and poetry from temples and royal courts of South India

<https://vimeo.com/155894601>

with Dr. Saskia Kersenboom - PARAMPARAI Foundation in the village of Legend, Northern Hungary

SASKIA KERSENBOOM studied in Tamilnadu, South India with Nandini Ramani the courtly dance repertoire of Tanjavur Balasaraswati and with P.Ranganayaki ritual music and dance at Tiruttani temple. Side-by-side she trained in Karnatik vocal- and instrumental (Vina) music.

Saskia has performed internationally traditional solo-dance concerts and taught at major dance-academies in The Netherlands, UK, Poland, USA and India.

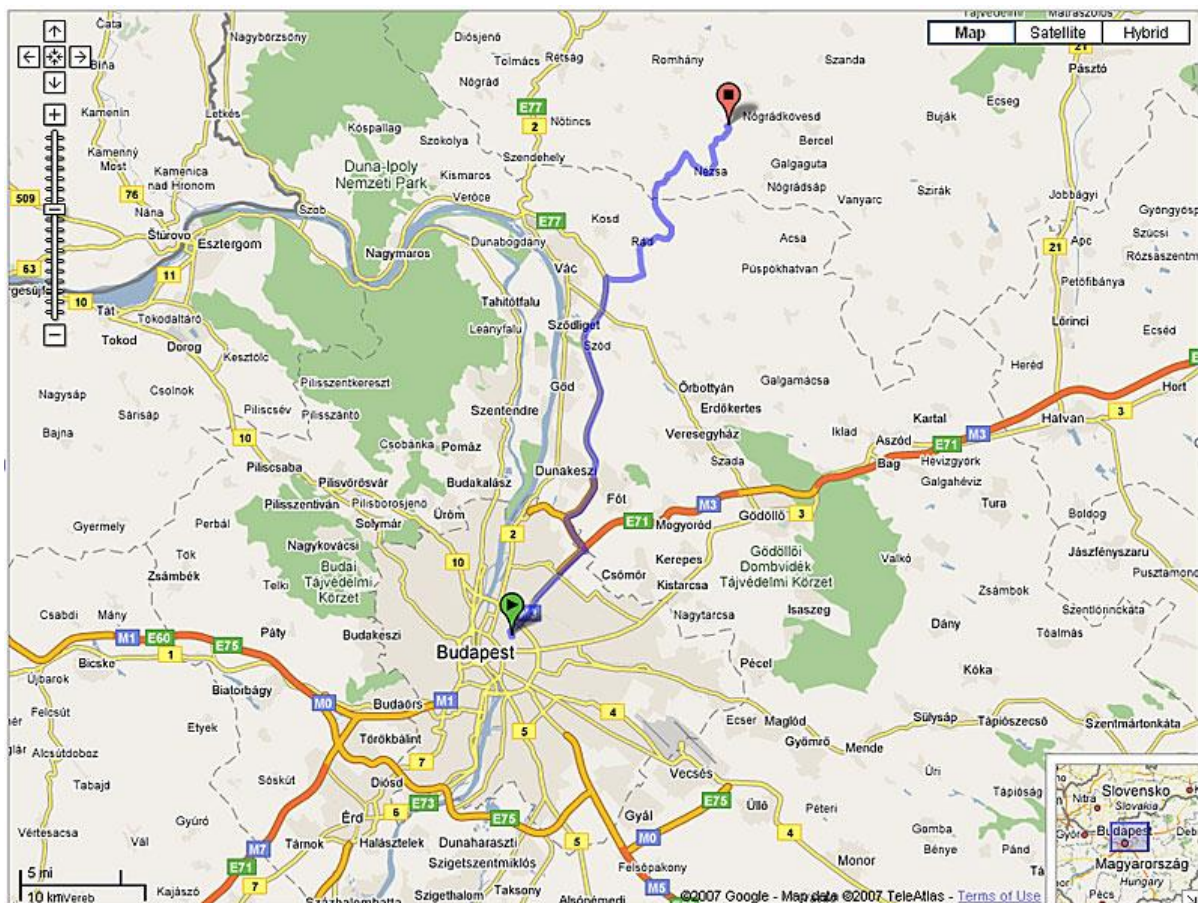

Her academic studies in Indian languages and culture resulted in a doctoral dissertation: 'NITYASUMANGALI, Devadasi Tradition in South India' - that has seen five editions since 1984.

 INDIVIDUAL Classes and Courses in Paramparai's indoor- and garden Studio: select devadasi dance repertoire like Tanjavur Varnam, Padam Javali and Tillana or ritual song and dance from Tiruttani temple. All choreographies are taught within their underlying context of rhythm, melody, lyrics and cultural history.*
